I am writing in regard to a proposal to limit use of Natural Gas in our state. Please do not do this! There is nothing in place to replace it's use for many people. It is an efficient, and in times of power outages especially in winter, a very much needed alternative to electricity. Many rely on this for heating and safety. It is shortsighted to want to eliminate or reduce this choice for citizens who are doing everything they can these days to stay solvent as well as safe. An unelected body or entity should not be allowed to dictate to people what source off energy they use in our communities. It is an abundant and clean energy source! Please do actual research on what we Washingtonians know to be a necessary safe, clean and efficient spruce of energy, especially with winter coming! What happens if the grid goes down and we have extended periods of power outages like the last few year? Please DO NOT eliminate or reduce the use od Natural Gas!

Thank you, Heidi Antonie
